AND THEN...

Begun by National Ambassador Jon Scieszka and completed by _____

The guy at the pet store said he was pretty sure it was a Green Basilisk Lizard egg. But man, was he wrong. He could not have been more wrong. Now the newspaper wants to know what happened to my little brother, that nice old lady down the street, the left side of Washington Elementary School, and the three jets, two helicopters, four tanks, and 36,000 gallons of Marshmallow Fluff. They will probably cover up the true story. But here's what really happened . . .

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

· Original text ©2009 by Jon Scieszka for Every Child a Reader · www.bookweekonline.com ·

· Original text ©2009 by Jon Scieszka for Every Child a Reader · www.bookweekonline.com ·